

Data Migration International & BPM-D - Solution Bundle

JiVS und BPM-D: Data Excellence as the Basis for Process Performance and the Move to SAP S/4HANA

A digital transformation project such as a move to SAP S/4HANA is often viewed purely as an IT project, but in fact it touches the entire company and its processes – which deliver the value of the transformation. The fact that processes and data play a key role in most transformation projects makes it necessary to count on partners who can drive value and deliver successful outcomes with the move to new target systems. Today, DMI and BPM-D serve many of the leading Fortune 1000 companies around the world.

BPM-D analyzes your processes at an early stage, identifies potential improvements, and defines the necessary realization actions. All this happens while building sustainable process management capabilities at its clients to create the expected value and keep processes on track. Today, BPM-D's expertise lies in the field of rapid process improvement, the preparation of smart automation, and stakeholder journey planning combined with state-of-the-art process management and related tools such as SAP Signavio, ARIS, or Celonis.

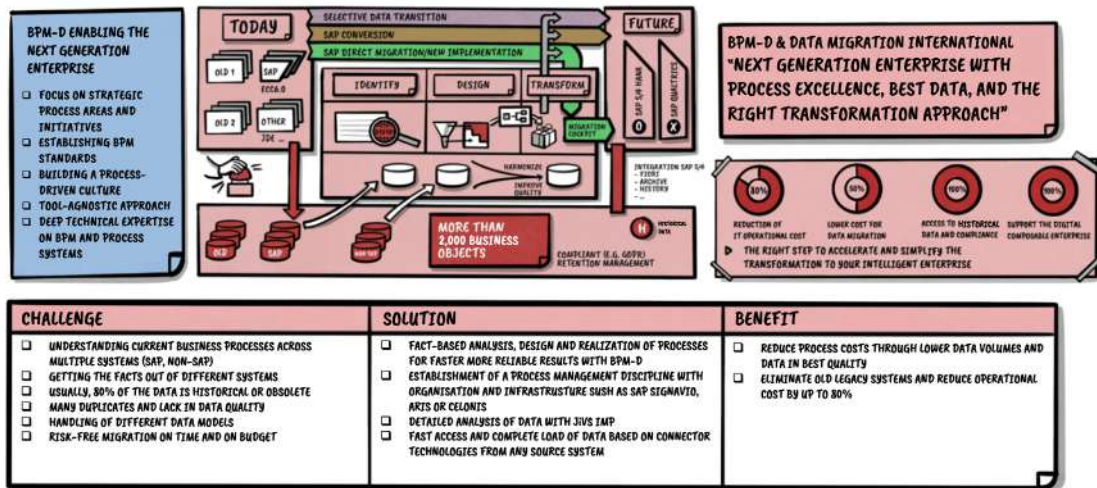

JiVS IMP supports BPM-D by providing excellent data quality as well as data analysis, and enables you to reduce the migration effort by up to 50% – risk-free, cost-effectively, and quickly.

Together, the leading JiVS Information Management Platform and the leading process management expertise of BPM-D are the ideal choice for handling any transformation project and driving value for the joint client base.

DATA EXCELLENCE AS THE BASIS FOR PROCESS EXCELLENCE AND THE MOVE TO SAP S/4HANA – POWERED BY BPM-D AND JiVS IMP

BPM-D

BPM-D helps organizations to achieve suitable performance and digitalization through Business Process Management. This includes rapid process improvement, the preparation of smart automation, stakeholder journey planning, and establishing an appropriate process management discipline. While supporting high-impact process improvements to create immediate value, we help develop the necessary process management capabilities to sustain the achieved benefits. This includes setting up the process governance organization and related infrastructure, such as process repositories or process mining and intelligence. To do this, we leverage close partnerships with technology vendors such as SAP BPI/Signavio, Software AG (ARIS), and Celonis. BPM-D is founded on solid thought leadership and years of experience, reflected in dozens of successful client engagements and numerous publications, including 11 books. BPM-D Consulting, Education, and Software are based on the BPM-D Framework enabling fast reliable results.
